ThinkUKnow – Educating Parents, Carers and Teachers on Cyber Safety and Security

Senior Constable Naomi Beale (School Based Constable at O’Loughlin Catholic College) will be presenting a free ThinkUKnow session for all parents, carers and teachers.

ThinkUKnow is an Internet safety program delivering interactive training to parents, carers and teachers through schools and organisations across Australia using a network of accredited trainers.

The Internet and other communication technologies offer many benefits to children and young people. Social networking, gaming and chatting present many opportunities, all with the click of a button or touch of a screen. But with this comes the reality of the chance of inappropriate communication, sharing and external influences.

Young people are quick to take up the latest developments in technology and are often the first to know when something new comes along. They are growing up in an ever-changing technological environment and can have a lot of fun doing so. To be able to keep our young people safe, parents/carers also need to make sure that they are aware of the latest developments and how young people are using them in their everyday lives.

To make sure that you are aware and up-to-date on the latest ‘on-line world’, we encourage you to attend this session to learn more about the ways your student is using technology. This informative session will be held in the ‘Barn’ from 6 till 7pm on 29th April 2015; all parents, carers and teacher are welcome (please do not bring your student/s – they have already attended an information session during school hours) to come along.
